

Coursework summary

Marian Petruk

May 25 2017

During the five-week coursework, we studied Python instruments for working with different APIs; how to use data structures in practice for particular problems; how to do research, “mine” the data and analyse the results. We gained skills for doing academic coursework with given structure and requirements.